

INT. COMPUTER LAB - AFTER LUNCH

Roger enters the classroom and sits down at his computer. He is the first student in class. The rest of the students come in and funnel past him.

The last three students who come in slap Roger on the back of his head and mess his hair up as they pass him.

Roger does nothing except cower his head and look sullen.

The three boys laugh and sit down at their computers.

Roger takes a pencil and paper out of his bag and begins writing.

(Writing on Paper)

"Dear Diary, my twin cousins and their mean friend continue to bully me."

The three bullies begin to take their materials out of their bag.

(writing continued...)

"little do they know all of the pens in their backpack somehow exploded during their recess"

BULLY 1

What the...!?

BULLY 2

Ah man!

BULLY 3

No way!

Roger pauses his writing and looks pleased with himself. He smiles slightly.

He looks back down at his paper.

"looks like I win again."
